Course Updates

Winter golf is coming to an end at Redmond Ridge. We are excited to start our spring and summer seasons and say goodbye to the rain and snow. All the work the Turf team has put in over the winter is beginning to show. The turf management team has spent a lot of time locating drains and ensuring they function properly, trimming trees, and cleaning up the landscaping around the course. Clearing unwanted vegetation will continue throughout the next several months, and we hope to have a much tidier presentation for this season. Over the next few months, we will focus on getting our irrigation set up, edging sprinkler heads, edging the cart path, cleaning up around the clubhouse, edging bunkers and adding sand, improving tee boxes, and preparing the course for the spring and summer. Currently, we are focused on course presentation and getting a maintenance routine back in place to ensure we are being proactive and not reactive to avoid any major issues. Our goal is to have more constant rolling greens and healthier grass around the course. We are confident that as you come out to play, you will see the improvements that have already been done. We are proud of our accomplishments over the winter and plan on continuing the progress this year. We look forward to having you out for a round of golf!

New Spring/
Summer Menu
starting April 3rd

Greetings,

Spring is upon us! We are very excited about the progress that we have made over the winter months. Our turf crew has been working very hard to clean up the course, and I am hopeful that our golfers will see the hard work that has been done. We continue to focus on the drainage of the course, and as we move into spring, we will continue to clean up and shift our focus to the bunkers, mowing, greens, and tees. We are also going to get our parking lot cleaned up and repaint the lines.

In other news, our beloved Golf Pro Andrew Shaub has accepted a position at our sister course, The Plateau Club. We are sad to see him go, but we are happy to see what he accomplishes at PC. In addition, Isabel Vela has been promoted to Golf Operations Manager, and we are excited for her to grow and continue the great progress Andrew has made at Redmond Ridge. Change is always challenging, but we are excited about the future.

The Crooked Spoon has some fun events upcoming, and the team is gearing up for a busy season. Depending on the weather, we plan on getting our beverage carts out earlier this year. In addition, we will have a new menu coming in April. Finally, we are looking to increase social events and provide a fun, comfortable space for our community to enjoy.

I am very excited about this year and look forward to seeing you all on the course.

We are paying close attention to the feedback we receive to see how we can continue to improve our guests' overall experience.
